About This Test

The Praxis® Subject Assessment for Elementary Education: Content Knowledge (5018) exam is a computer-based test that evaluates the knowledge, skills, and abilities needed for those entering the elementary education field. The test is in line with both the Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts and Mathematics. About 60 percent of the 140 questions on the test cover math and reading and language arts, while the remaining questions are divided between social studies and science. Like the official test, this test consists of selected-response and numeric-entry questions that assess your content knowledge in the four areas.

There is a 150-minute time limit, and you'll have access to an on-screen scientific calculator. Note that on the official exam, you'll be provided with a different scientific calculator on-screen than the one on this practice test. To become familiar with what to expect on test day, you can view the tutorials and register for a free calculator trial on the ETS® website.

Your performance on this practice test can be a good indicator of how you'll fare on the official Praxis® Subject Assessment for Elementary Education: Content Knowledge (5018) exam. Good luck!
